PROBLEM

A STRATEGIC CAMPAIGN FOR THE GEN-Z COLLEGE DEMOGRAPHIC

Stop buying makeup like it's homework.

Gen Z college girls, ages 17–23, love to express themselves daily — but real barriers stand between them and effortless glam.

01

Budget Constraints

Premium beauty products are often priced out of a student's monthly allowance.

02

Decision Fatigue

Selecting individual items to build a cohesive look is overwhelming.

03

The Hassle

Buying makeup piece-by-piece feels like a chore, not self-expression.

“Capture their loyalty before the competition does.”

Engaging Gen-Z college students early builds long-term brand loyalty. A high-quality, entry-level kit that respects their budget earns MARS their trust today — and their loyalty tomorrow, as they graduate into our premium individual lines.

Four phases, one semester, full-funnel momentum.

Where We Show Up

Three channels, one consistent voice.

Social Media

Instagram Reels and YouTube Shorts driving “GRWM for College” tutorials featuring the kit.

Campus Pop-ups

Interactive MARS kiosks at major college fests across Tier 1 & 2 cities for hands-on testing.

Micro-Influencers

College ambassadors driving authentic, peer-to-peer word-of-mouth marketing.

Affordable Luxury, By the Numbers

Bundling the five essentials delivers real savings without compromising quality.

The College Starter Kit offers a massive value proposition — perfectly aligned with MARS’ “Affordable Luxury” ethos, while bundling drives a higher Average Order Value.

Why This Strategy Wins

Solves a Real Pain Point

Removes the friction of cost and choice for the Gen-Z consumer.

Drives Volume

Bundling guarantees a higher Average Order Value while maintaining affordability.

Strengthens Brand Identity

Encapsulates MARS' mission to make beauty inclusive, fun, and accessible.

Builds the Funnel

Creates the perfect entry point to convert students into lifelong MARS advocates.
